EASTERN DATES TO OCT. 11

Eastern States Billiard Challenge

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Frank Parker, of this city, the billiard champion of Illinois, has issued a challenge to Rudolph to play for the championship of the United States.

German Steamers Unsafe for Mail Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Postmaster General considers it unsafe and inexpedient to send mails by German steamers at present on account of their liability to capture by French cruisers.

Engagement at Artenay

ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—The Commandant in chief of the Fifteenth Army corps sends the following report to Minister of War Gambetta at Tours:

About 9 o'clock this morning at Artenay, where was a brigade of Longueville and several companies of chasseurs, we were attacked by a considerable force of the enemy, who succeeded in occupying the place. Gen. Reyan went to the assistance of the French forces with five regiments and four battalions and also a battery of eight guns. After combatting till 3 o'clock P. M. our troops were repulsed into the forest, which I retain and shall defend at any cost. The Prussians outnumbered us.

Condition of Metz—The Prussians Take 2,000 Prisoners

LONDON, Oct. 11.—A correspondent of the Telegraph says the Prussians on leaving Milhouse fired on the people, killing and wounding several.

Advices from Metz to Sunday say that firing from the works is steadily maintained.

Much sickness prevails. The rinderpest has appeared.

The Prussians took 2,000 prisoners in the last encounter. Many Prussians were wounded.

Bismarck Refuses an Armistice

It is stated Lord Lyons recently suggested to Bismarck the expediency of an armistice. Bismarck replied that Prussia would be glad to make peace at any time and any where, but no proposition looking to a truce would be entertained for a moment.

Narrow Escape of Gambetta

TOURS, Oct. 11.—Reynolds and May, who have arrived here, corroborate reports of the situation in Paris as given by Gambetta.

Great crowds collected to see the balloons start. In a few seconds after starting the balloons were over the Prussian lines and greeted with a sharp volley of musketry. Bullets were heard on all sides; rockets and other missiles were also fired. Ballast was thrown out and the wind freshening up at the moment they escaped. Nothing has been heard from Paris to day.

Gambetta's balloon descended at Creul, and for a long time so close to earth that one shot from the Prussians wounded him in the hand and another went through the balloon. Both balloons ultimately landed north of Amiens.

TOURS, Oct. 10.—Garibaldi has stated in an address that he is to command the French volunteers.

It is reported that Garibaldi will take his force into Vosges to operate against the Prussians.

It is reported to day that fighting was resumed near Orleans.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Duke of Mecklenburg is moving on Paris with his forces.

A malignant disease is reported among the troops at Metz.

A Brussels dispatch believes that Hurbal's mission to the Empress was to urge abdication and thus to remove all obstacles to our peace recognition of the Republic and to represent the army of Bazaine cannot be relied on to support the Empire.

A Munich dispatch says it is rumored that Prussia has made a secret treaty with Italy to secure Tyrol.

Bismarck denies that the Prussians before Paris are mutinous.

Dissatisfaction with the Authorities

The people of Tours are expressing indignation at the course of the authorities in not seeing that the Fifteenth Corps was properly reinforced. The scene of the battle which occurred yesterday near Artenay is only three hours ride by rail from this city, and here are collected several thousand troops, infantry, cavalry and artillery. The public are painfully impressed because these troops were not immediately forwarded to assist in the fight.

Bourbaki has been summoned to Tours to account for his recent conduct. He is charged with having left his post to visit England.

Count Palikao has offered his services to the Republic.

Reported Cruelties of the Prussians

The Moniteur publishes communications from persons in the different Departments of France now under control of the Prussians, giving details of shocking cruelties committed by the Prussians in their endeavors to raise contributions where the people have been impoverished by former requisitions.

Movements of French Ironclads

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Twelve French ironclads passed Dover to day bound east. Garibaldi has exhorted the people of Nice and Savoy to discontinue all agitation at present, as it does no good and only embarrasses the French in their struggle against Prussia.

TOURS, Oct. 11.—Another body of Prussian prisoners has arrived here.

Versailles Released from a Levy—Village Burned for the Treachery of the People

LONDON, Oct. 10.—King William has relieved Versailles from the payment of 400,000 francs which had been levied by the Prussians.

A squad of Prussian hussars was attacked on the night of the 7th through the treachery of the inhabitants of a village. The village was afterwards burned by the Prussians as a punishment. Numerous bodies of French have since been dispersed in that neighborhood. There is a large Bavarian force south of Etampes.

The villages north of Paris, which were deserted on the approach of the Germans, are occupied again.

A Battle imminent at Tourney

TOURS, Oct. 10.—It is understood here that a battle is imminent near Tourney. The Prussians have returned here in force and the French have crowds of volunteers and conscripts from the South.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A telegram from Berlin to the Manchester Examiner says Bazaine is fighting for a path to Belgium. The same correspondent says that General Von Werder is advancing on the army of Lyons between Belfort and Langeres.

Prussia will not Recognize the Republic

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The following statement is official: The Government of Prussia is unable to recognize the actual Government of France and will not depose the Bonapartes.

Paris will not Surrender till Stormed

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Speech has vanished from France. A note from the Prussian Government informs the Powers that Paris threatens to hold out until stormed.

What France must pay as Indemnity

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The Berlin Chamber of Commerce, in an address to Count Von Bismarck, expresses the hope that the indemnity to be paid by France will be ... the ... losses of ... through—[Here the line broke.]

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The first race of the season at Alameda Course, running two miles and repeat, resulted as follows: Nell Flaherty ... 2 1 1; Mr. Dickinson's Kroy Smith 3 1 2; Mr. O'Hanlon's A. Bascom ... distanced. Time ... 3:55.

Says the Idaho Statesman: ... men have been shot to death in Idaho during the past two weeks. And something like two hundred have been hurried into eternity during the past eight years at the hands of violence, a large proportion of them being downright murders. Five murderers only have been hung in the same length of time; three of them the villains who killed Magruder, the fourth Sam Walters, who killed Bacon, the fifth, one Anthony M Bride, who murdered a Chinaman three years ago. Many of these murderers have gone to other Territories and in turn got killed or hung; some have died, some are scattered about, and the remainder are still here running at large.

OREGON

From the Corvallis Gazette: T. W. B. Smith, County Assessor, returns ... polls in the county and $1,... of taxable property.

The timbers and lumber for the new bridge across the Luckiamute at Helm's are nearly all on the ground. It will be finished in a few weeks.

An Indian on the Reservation at Grand Ronde last week was attacked by three wild cats. He got away from them without being hurt, and got his gun, returned, assaulting the attacking party and killed one cat.

A letter from Yaquina says: An ocean steamer has been lying off the bar for three days. She is supposed to be the Revenue Cutter ..., surveying the entrance to the Bay, or perhaps viewing the locality that Col. Williamson decided upon for the Harbor lights.

The Republican says: From the best information we can gather there will be a greater breadth of grain sown this fall than heretofore. Our farmers are beginning to regard spring crops with distrust. Occasionally they will give a good yield, but for a certain crop fall sowing alone can be relied upon.

The Polk County Republican says the emigration from this county this fall is considerable. This moving is taking a direction that we dislike to see, considering that population is what we need to make us a prosperous people. Since Monday last three families started for the country east of the mountains.

Mr. J. W. Crawford, of the Grand Ronde Indian Agency, tells us that the amount of wheat threshed on the Department farm at the Agency was 700 bushels. The same farm also produced 1,100 bushels of oats. The Indians as private individuals, have raised 5,000 bushels of wheat and 6,000 bushels of oats.

The Mountaineer says: The assessment of property, real and personal, this year, as returned by the County Assessor, of Wasco, amounts to $1,085,000. This is an increase over last year of $183,000. Our readers will see by this that notwithstanding that real estate is decreasing in value in this city, the county at large is increasing in wealth. And so it is in regard to population. What the city has lost the county has more than made up. The population of this county is 2,489. In 1860 it was 1,689. A gain of 800 in ten years. This is very good considering the many disadvantages we have labored under.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: From Mr. Wrisley, who returned from Fort Klamath last Saturday, we learn that a portion of the surveying party, who started from here some weeks ago to survey some land on the upper waters of Rogue river, got lost about the first of last week and wandered about several days without anything to eat. They had started through from the opposite side of the river to the Fort Klamath wagon road, and became so bewildered among the numerous branches of Rogue river that they ... (their compass was out of order). They got to camp, however, without any serious consequences from their long fast.

THE TERRITORIES

Gen. Hazard Stevens has been admitted as an attorney at law, to practice in the Courts of Washington Territory.

Upon the bridge over the Platte, leading out of Denver, Colorado, there was a year ago this inscription: No vehicle drawn by more than one animal is allowed to cross this bridge in opposite directions at the same time.

A dispatch, from Clark's ferry, Snake river, Oct. 3d, to the Idaho Statesman, has this: Jack Fairchild was shot last evening by Geo. Heath at Rock creek station. Fairchild cannot live. Three balls passed through his body. Heath is under arrest. Fairchild was a driver on the road.

The proprietors of the two daily lines to Monticello—mail and opposition—Messrs. Coggan and Winsor, says the Olympia Transcript of Saturday, have made an arrangement by which the stages run in connection. Yesterday morning the stages went out under this consolidation, taking passengers at $5.

From the Olympia Transcript: About two weeks ago as Mrs. McLelan, of White river, went to the spring, a short distance from the house, for water, a small child followed. After securing the water and turning to return, to her horror she saw a cougar in the path between her and the child, who had fallen a little behind as they were going out. Her screams attracted the attention of the cougar and a neighbor, who chanced to be near by, came to them. The animal left after reviewing the field, to be followed immediately by dogs, and was shot that same afternoon. It is something extraordinary that these animals should be so bold of late, as we cannot recall an instance during the last fifteen years of a person being injured by wild animals of any kind. Old settlers say that wild animals are more numerous here now than twenty years ago.

It was thought, and indeed freely remarked, that her ... was more ambitious than her ... that the former designed for her some great alliance, while Eugenie herself appeared ... simple sincerity—a girl who would ... to consult her heart in any matrimonial affair. Her sister had just married the Duke of Alba and Berwick, a lineal descendant of James II of England, and the worthy mother, Donna Maria, no doubt designed ... an equal matrimonial destiny for the more beautiful of her daughters. But the heart is not always to be controlled even in the most aristocratic life, or to yield to its exactions or convenience. Eugenie lost hers to a fine looking blonde Virginian, young William C. But Aunt Judy Rives, a Virginia matron very decided and angular in her scruples, interfered and broke off the match, the Countess was too fast for her old Virginia ... of social sobriety. The woman for whom fortune had reserved so much escaped the comparatively humble match that her heart had decided upon—the destiny of a quiet Virginia housewife—to ascend the throne of France. Alas what other contrasts may yet remain for her! WEDNESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 12, 1870

The Show of People

The exhibition at the State Fair up to yesterday (Tuesday) was not remarkably fine except in one respect—we mean the exhibition of people. That was particularly good. Not only was it successful in point of numbers, but was such also in the appearance and quality of those who were assembled on the ground. The show of people is decidedly the most interesting feature of our fairs, not excepting even the all-absorbing "horse trots."

The Fair Grounds have been very greatly improved this year. Everything wears an appearance of order. The buildings are well arranged and the camps are disposed in a regular and orderly manner. Water in abundance is obtainable on the grounds. All these arrangements constitute a vast improvement in the general order of things, as compared with what has been witnessed in former years. And the people,—we return at once to our observations upon them,—certainly look better than ever before.

These State Fairs, giving opportunity as they do for a general meeting of the people from all parts of the State, exercise in this direction a most beneficial influence. They serve to banish that homely rusticity which naturally attaches to those who remain in isolation and see little of their neighbors and nothing of the outside world. People should mingle. There is nothing more wholesome. In this way they become less provincial and more cosmopolitan. They get their ideas out of the old ruts in which they have been running, and see at once new methods of improvement which they are not slow to imitate. They thus get the best and most useful part of their culture, and the horizon of their own affairs enlarges to the horizon of the human race.

The operation of some such influence as this is easily perceptible among the people of Oregon. We are glad to chronicle it. Such influences are chief among the civilizing influences of the times. Limited to the circle of their own small affairs, people may quite lose sight of the progress of the world and almost come to think that the visual line which girds them round is the world's extreme. Every means which helps to break up this exclusiveness and to promote intercourse among the people is beneficial in its operation and effects. The whole mass of the people thus have opportunity to become acquainted with the best ideas and methods, and with all the various improvements that are continually suggested and the whole people are elevated together. They modify each other's habits and opinions, and the general effect is seen in positive improvement and progress. All this may be perceived by any observer who takes notes at the present State Fair, and compares them with his notes taken at the first State Fair held ten years ago.

The New York Census

A great stir has been created among the New York "Democracy" by the publication of the official census returns of that city. The great trouble is that the returns reveal the fact that the most amazing frauds have been perpetrated in elections there for several years. From a large list before us we select three short columns of figures relating to wards in which the census shows that for twenty years there has been little increase of population, and give the vote at different periods:

Wards.	Vote in 1852.	1860	1868
I	1,588	1 948	3 202
IV	2 033	2 536	4 310
V	2 096	3,201	3 585
VI	1,907	3,221	5 401
VII	3,733	4,800	8 150
VIII	3,786	4,771	5,790
XIV	2,413	3 576	5 252
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	25,685

These figures show an increase of about ninety-eight per cent. in sixteen years, while the census shows that there has been no increase of consequence. This is what led to Mayor Hall's singular document, in which he complained, substantially, that Tammany's representatives had been counted only once by the enumerators. To this document the United States Marshal replied, stating that the utmost care has been taken to get a correct census, and offering to go in person with two of the Tammany magnates over any one or more of the districts about which complaint has been made, and verify the returns. This offer has not been accepted. A frantic effort has been made throughout the city to find persons who were not enumerated, and after an effort of two weeks seven hundred and twenty-three persons were discovered who said that they had not been called on by the census takers. This is a small showing for so much ado when it is considered that the population of the city numbers nearly one million.

Amis, the statesman from Lane, don't succeed in the Legislature. Others of his party are envious of him and kill all his measures. They have strangled his queue bill, suppressed his resolution to repudiate the State debt, and plainly intimate that they don't intend to treat any of his measures with consideration. One reason for this may lie in the fact that a while before the Legislature convened Amis was unfortunate enough to receive a very favorable notice from the Herald.

A citizen of Yamhill tells us that Bill New by has been trying to get an official position in that county since 1847. But the people there could never "see it." At last, however, he found a Democratic Legislature so besotted in its partisanship as to elect him one of its members after the people of the county had rejected him for the position. This will be his title to fame.

Mr Fulton of Wasco after having made a "powerful argument" in favor of Amis' queue bill and against the damnable Chinaman a day or two ago voted "no" on the motion that the bill should pass. The House exploded with laughter, and Fulton, simple soul, didn't know what was the matter.

The ex-Emperor advises the people of France to surrender the struggle. They decline to follow his illustrious example. But this, nevertheless, is about the best advice he ever gave them.

Pending the discussion as to whether the ex Emperor and Empress are or are not royal Rothschilds, with the fabulous income of 40,000,000 francs a year, it is interesting to know that in 1791, the epoch of the great revolution, the crown diamonds were placed in the Department of the Garde Meuble. A detailed inventory was drawn up, with valuations attached by Deputies of the National Assembly. How magnanimously superior to money considerations the French Republicans have in all times showed themselves! The inventory was printed: the diamonds were valued at 17 000 000 francs, the pearls at near 1 000 000, the colored stones at 250,000, and the sets of jewelry at nearly 5 000 000 altogether, over 23 000,000 francs, or $4,500 000. The Regent was estimated at 12 000 000 francs. Values are doubled now.

TENTH ANNUAL STATE FAIR

Second Day

The expectations entertained yesterday for to-day have hardly been realized except in regard to the attendance of people. The weather remains fine though it was a little threatening yesterday morning and the people are still coming in in great numbers. The receipts at the gate do not indicate very closely the numbers present, as some of the tickets sold are for the season at $1 50, others for the day only fifty cents. Up to 5 o'clock P M to-day the total receipts at the gates were $1 300. This is I believe a much larger sum than ever received on the corresponding days of any former fair. Financially the fair has the most promising prospects.

The display at the Pavilion is, however, meagre as compared with last year or the year before, while the mechanical and agricultural departments are discouragingly bare.

Under the shed devoted to agricultural machinery, farm implements, etc, there are only a few plows, not a gang, a few Oregon made wagons, a hack or two, a patent portable hay press, two or three seed drills, hay rakes, a few gardening tools, a wheat separator, and a few other articles. A stranger visiting this department would be impressed with the notion that Oregon farmers carry on their operations without tools or machinery. The place looks desolate enough, and visitors pass it with scarcely more than a casual glance.

Entering the pavilion at the western door the visitor will find an Oregon rat and squirrel trap on one side of the door with a sickly looking squirrel a prisoner in it; on the other side of the door, a patent fruit and clothes dryer, a washing machine, an Oregon made lady's side saddle, a collection of beautifully thrifty young trees from Walling's Willamette Nursery, fanning mill, and a few sewing machines.

Thence passing out into the new wing we find a moderate display of cakes, jellies, preserves, apples, pears and small fruits—all very nice and tempting, but the display is not so extensive as we have been accustomed for a few years to see.

As I remarked yesterday the floral and horticultural depot is well filled, and the show is the handsomest there is in the pavilion. The additions made to this department to-day are numerous. Mr Miller, of Milwaukie, and Mrs Belle Cooke, of Salem, are among the chief exhibitors. Their collections embrace a great variety of rare and beautiful flowers.

In the old wing of the pavilion there is a small collection of handsome sprigs of wheat, oats, barley, corn, buckwheat, grass, seeds and garden vegetables, but there is nothing remarkable among them.

The exhibition of dairy products is small but creditable.

The display of needlework, embroidery, tatting, netting, boys' suits, home made goods, millinery and fancy work, of various sorts, is very good—good indeed though the articles are not near so numerous as we have often seen.

On the opposite side of the partition rock more than half the space is yet bare, but such articles of ornamental work as are hung up are exceedingly creditable to the workers.

The geological and mineralogical exhibition is scarce worth mention. It may be said however, that entries are not yet closed, and many articles already entered have not yet been placed on exhibition. The display may, therefore, yet be materially improved.

At 5 o'clock P M the total number of entries in the various departments were as follows: Dairy, 29; farming implements, tools, machinery etc, 40; natural history, mining etc, 32; fruits, 32; woolen manufactures, 3; flowers and plants, 65; domestic manufactures 28; garden products, 18; music, 1; horses of all classes 221; sheep, 73; needlework, 416; preserves, jellies, etc., 413.

The Twenty-third Infantry band arrived this morning, and they have served greatly to enliven the grounds during the day.

The Marshals, under Major Magone, chief, have been able thus far to maintain excellent order.

The dust to-day is excessively bad, worse than yesterday.

THE RACES

The first race to-day was a heat open to all comers—mile heats, three in five, for premiums of $50, $30 and $20. The competitors were Webfoot Maid, Pat Smith's mare, Honest John and Richmond. The mare took the first three heats in succession in 3 14½, 2 51½ and 2 47½.

Richmond was second in each heat. Honest John was withdrawn after the second heat, being distanced.

The second was a running race, open to all, mile heats, 2 in 3, for a premium of $100. Erdford entered Buckskin Bill, and I Lascelles entered Greyhound. The former won the first heat in 2:08½, and then Greyhound took two succeeding heats in 1 57½ and 1 5[illegible], doing some pretty fair running, but closely pressed by Buckskin in the last heat. The latter really did the best running, there being at the start a wide gap, which he succeeded in closing within a single length.

The Programme To-Day

The following is the programme at the State Fair for to-day (Wednesday):

At 9 o'clock this morning, all entries close.

Annual Election—The annual election of officers of the Society for 1871, will be held at the Pavilion to-day from 9 A M to 4 P M. See rules governing voters, headed "Election," posted on the grounds.

Opening Address—At 10 30 A M, the opening address will be delivered.

Grand Parade—At 1 o'clock P M, grand parade of animals entered for premiums, including horses, cattle, jacks, jennies and mules.

At 2 P M, examinations by the Judges will commence. Superintendents and committeemen are requested to be promptly at the Pavilion at 9 30 A M to receive their books and such instructions as the President may desire to give.

Saddle Horses—At 2 30 P M, trial of saddle horses for the following premiums: Saddle horse, first premium, $8 00, second premium, $5 00. Trial such as committee may decide.

Carriage and Buggy Horses—At 3 P M, trial of carriage and buggy horses in No 3, Class 2 for the following premiums: Span carriage horses, first premium, $20, second premium, $15. Span matched buggy roadsters, owned by one man, first premium, $20, second premium, $15. Buggy horse, first premium, $10, second premium $8. Form, style and movement to be considered by the judges in such trial as they decide.

Running—At 5 P M, running for horse, mare or gelding, single dash of one mile. Premium, $75 00.

WAR MISCELLANY

The Prussians not being able to use the railway from Metz to the frontier which is within range of the forts, have constructed another for their communications with Saarbruck, Strasburg and the East. They have also formed another mountain road, to be connected with the former from Remilly to Pont a Mousson. About 4 000 laborers were occupied on it, among whom are many miners and 250 plate layers.

The New Hessian Gazette, writing from Konigsberg, states: "In the battle of Metz the soldiers of our Forty third Regiment, as a protection against the continual showers of bullets that the enemy poured upon them, fastened their knapsacks across their chests. After the battle many of them were convinced that these tactics had saved their lives. In them they found no small number of bullets, which, instead of striking them in the breast, had only entered their calf skin cuirasses."

The vast superiority of the Prussian artillery over that of the French will probably be even more apparent in the siege of Paris than it has been in any of the battles or sieges of the last two months. The Prussian field guns are steel breech loaders, while the French still use the old iron muzzle-loaders. The defensive works of Paris are also mounted with iron muzzle loading cannon, while for siege artillery the Prussians have those tremendous steel guns manufactured during the last seven years at the works of Krupp, the great Prussian cannon founder.

A hardy Breton arrived in Paris the other day with an old flint musket, and when asked what he was going to do with that old iron, replied: "What my father did sixty years ago: demolish the Prussians." A friend laughed and recommended him to change it for a good fusil a tabatiere, to which the Breton replied: "I know nothing of new inventions, but I know this tool. In 1814 my grandfather had it blessed by the late curé of Vitre, and he never received a scratch. Last Sunday my mother had it blessed again by our present curé, and I am quite sure of my affair. Le bon Dieu would not deceive me, nor M le Curé neither."

AGENCIES WITHDRAWN.—One of the results of the grand excursion to this coast by Eastern railroad men, recently, was the withdrawal of all Pacific agencies. A consolidated interest of all the companies is contemplated, we presume. The agency in this city has been withdrawn.

If you wish to buy or rent Farms or City Property call on PARRISH & ATKINSON, Corner of Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

AN ARTICLE OF TRUE MERIT.—BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES are the most popular article in this country or Europe for Throat Diseases and Coughs, and this popularity is based upon real merit, which cannot be said of many other preparations in the market which are really but weak imitations of the genuine Troches.

For curing all throat, bronchial and lung diseases it has never been equaled. PORTLAND, OREGON.

The following views of a correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, respecting the characteristics of Portland, its people, improvements and prospects, written on the 27th ult., from this place, are worth a perusal, as showing what strangers think of us. We quote:

NEW BUILDINGS GOING UP.

There is a vigorous and healthy growth here. In every direction splendid residences and massive business houses are in course of erection. There are now buildings of as stately fronts and beautiful and costly architectural finish lining the business streets here, as any on Montgomery or California streets in your city, and there is no palatial residence in San Francisco which in beauty of structure, costly finish and rich fittings exceed some here. It seems to be a leading fashion to have fine houses. Nearly every man of wealth either has, or is about to have, a fine house, and others have the best they can build, as soon as they can build any.

LOCAL PRIDE.

There is an attachment to place and love of homelife among Oregonians, which induce them to embellish their homes and their city, and which make them invest their wealth here. They are social, industrious, steady and economical, and have faith in the great future of their State. Their pride of place shows itself not only in jealously keeping and investing their means here, to beautify and advance the growth of Portland, but in the excellent condition in which they keep their streets, the business portions of which are all Nicolson paved, while the rest, even beyond the suburbs, are planked and have wide sidewalks.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

Public buildings and the religious and educational institutions are well cared for. There are five or six large public school houses and a Methodist college. The Catholics have a college which will accommodate several hundred, and besides this the Episcopal folk have two large colleges, one male and the other female, which are not only fine architectural marks in the city, but of such educational mark as to rank with the best of colleges on this coast. They are under the care of Bishop Morris, who has supplied them with teachers from the East of such merit that they are rapidly filling up and having remarkable success. Bishop Morris is an energetic and enterprising man, and has so advanced the Episcopal denomination as to have three churches prospering in the city and another to be built at once in East Portland.

EFFECT OF THE RAILROAD.

The new impulse which the whole of Oregon has received since her railroad era began has greatly enhanced the value of real estate; but people do not get wild, and there are as yet no unhealthy values; many, however, have become wealthy solely from the rise of real estate.

PROSPECTS FOR THE FUTURE.

There are many things to assure a long continuance of Portland's present prosperity. In the first place, and which is of more importance than everything else, the steady, industrious and economical habits of her people are so firm rooted that the rapid increase of wealth and immigration cannot destroy it.

This State undoubtedly offers excellent openings for poor men and men of small capital, while the resources of Puget Sound are of such a character that none but large operators can move them, and as the North Pacific Railroad will come by Portland, she will for many years reap all the advantages of it. Then, Oregon has all the advantage of keeping her manufactures up with her productions, without which any country must be kept backward.

Portland is bound to be the great railroad centre of the northwest. In a few years four or five great roads must terminate here; the east side, Oregon and California road, and west side Wallamet Valley Road, which will traverse the finest portions of Oregon; the Northern Pacific and the branch from the Central Pacific.

There is much speculation here as to the effects of a connection by rail with the California or Central road. Many fear it will have the same effect upon Oregon, and especially upon Portland, that the completion of the Central Pacific had upon California, and for that reason strongly oppose any connection with the California road, but favor turning the road eastward after traversing the Wallamet and Umpqua valleys. This course of reasoning arises from the association with protective and other old exploded doctrines. In the first place, the Central Pacific has had no injurious effect upon California. The mere temporary depression there, is owing somewhat to the transition through which things are going in consequence of a connection with the East, necessitating changes in business methods; but mostly to the same causes which produce general depression throughout the Union. The great expectations founded on the railroad, led to an unhealthy inflation of real estate values, but that evil brings its own cure; and in due time there will be a permanent enhancement, founded on solid causes. The road is now greatly benefitting California, and will continue to do so with increased fold for many years; and Oregon is not only now showing its benefits, but will, to a much greater extent, when she is connected by rail with California. It will no doubt create quite a change in affairs here; but Oregon is in too healthy a condition to receive any such shock as California received. But suppose she did receive a check; it would be great shortsightedness to despoil her of the great ultimate advantages of such connection. Oregon and California are too unlike to ever come into harmful competition with each other; besides no region can ever suffer by the prosperity of those around it, or a close connection with them. On the contrary, each having its own peculiar advantages, only creates better markets for the other. It is an enlightened selfishness that is being better understood of late years, that individuals as well as nations, should let each one do freely what nature has given it better powers or advantages for doing. People here are very much absorbed in business, have very few facilities for recreation and seem to care for none. The climate, however, is invigorating and sustaining to long and arduous labor. It is not quite as common healthful this season, owing to the very hot weather and less than the usual amount of rain.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The regular weekly meeting of the Portland Board of Trade was held at the Council Chamber last evening. Present—W. S. Ladd, President, Col. John M. Drake, Secretary, and Messrs. A. P. Ankeny, James Steel, R. S. McLeran, J. F. Jones, M. B. Millard and G. Shindler.

Ingalls may rest assured that business will prosper in the hands of the "Crown Prince" of Pursers, Knaggs.

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Sixth Biennial Session.

SENATE—Afternoon Session.

SALEM, Monday, Oct. 10.

Mr. Mosher, from the Committee on Roads and Highways, reported back S. B. No. 53, amending the road law, with the recommendation not to pass it, as the present law is sufficient.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

S. B. 11—To create the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, was read.

Mr. Stout called attention to the petition excepting Multnomah county. He thought the school law should be general, to conform to the State Constitution, and knew of no reason why the exception should prevail.

Mr. Baldwin remarked that the schools in Multnomah county were of a high grade, and the exception only referred to the choice of books.

Mr. Stout stated that the Constitution provided in certain cases for general laws, and he believed this to come under the section relating to that subject. He referred to the schools of Portland as affording an opportunity for choice on the part of those sending their children to school in that city.

Mr. Crawford had understood the bill as exempting the high schools and not the common schools in Portland, Oregon City and Salem.

Mr. Hendershott moved to refer back to the Committee on Education, with instructions to strike out all that part excepting Portland, Oregon City and Salem.

Mr. Stout, alluding to the absence of his colleague, said he might not correctly represent Multnomah county; that he had not asked for the exemption of Portland and would like to hear a reason for the exception. He was friendly to the bill, though he had no objections to a portion of it, and desired to sleep before consenting to its passage as at present before the Senate.

Mr. Thompson—The people of Oregon City are satisfied with the system now practiced there, and I desire it excluded from the provisions of this bill, as provided in the clause exempting Portland, Oregon City and Salem.

Mr. Hendershott's motion prevailed.

H. B. 53, in conformity to the report of the Committee on Roads and Highways, was, on motion of Mr. Trevitt, indefinitely postponed.

S. B. 29, providing an appropriation to complete the drainage of lands in Union county, was on motion of Mr. Stout taken from the table.

Mr. Thompson had voted for the bill two years ago appropriating money, but as the parties had accepted currency, he was opposed to making any additional appropriation.

Mr. Hendershott—The Treasurer, when the warrants were presented, told the holders that currency was all that would be paid, and they, believing that they could get nothing else, had accepted the greenbacks, although when taking the contract it was understood that it was to be paid in coin. It would work a hardship to those men if the additional appropriation proposed were not passed.

Mr. Baldwin, referring to the contract, contended that it was an unfair advantage to claim that because the holders had accepted the currency tendered they should not receive sufficient compensation to fulfil the agreement as made.

On motion of Mr. Stout the bill was made the special order for 11 A. M. to-morrow.

Mr. Mosher moved to make House J. R. 11, asking Congress to confirm the 500,000 acres to the State for educational purposes, the special order for 2 o'clock P. M. to-morrow.

Mr. Cochran objected to a special order for that hour, owing to the probable difficulty of getting a quorum to attend during the fair in the afternoon.

Mr. Newby moved to amend by fixing the time for the special order at 10½ o'clock, A. M., on Wednesday next.

Mr. Mosher proposed to go on with the work of the session and not pretend to attend the Senate and horse-racing the same day. If the Senate would adjourn for three or four days and make up the time, he had no objections.

Mr. Hendershott was surprised at the remarks of the gentlemen proposing to go to the Fair—especially as coming from the Senator from Lane. He wanted to go on with the work of the session.

Mr. Cochran reminded members of the past session during the Fair, and of the difficulty of retaining members in the Senate. He was generally in his place, but would prefer holding a morning and evening session and adjourning during the day.

Mr. Stout could see a necessity for attending the Fair. The $3 per diem seemed to bother Senators. For his part he would not remain here for that consideration. The members owe a duty to their constituents, and it did not matter if we remained here forty or fifty days—that duty should be performed. The members who resigned two years ago made the paltry excuse that the term for which they received $3 per day had expired. He had observed, this session, the necessity for a better understanding of the wants of the various sections. He desired the privilege of attending the Fair.

Mr. Newby had not made the motion for the purpose of delay, but the members were aware of the difficulty of retaining the members here, and all should be present at the passage of the important bills now pending.

Mr. Mosher believed it right and proper to attend the Fair, but would not feel like holding an evening session after an afternoon spent on the Fair Ground.

On motion of Mr. Stout, the resolution was laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Mosher, the Senate concurred in the House Joint Memorial No. 10—memorializing Congress for a grant of land to aid in clearing the Umpqua river of obstructions to navigation.

House Joint Resolution No. 18, asking Congress for a grant of land to aid in constructing a railroad from the Central Pacific to the North Pacific, was concurred in by the Senate, on motion of Mr. Mosher.

THE FAIR AGAIN.

Mr. Thompson offered Senate Joint Resolution No. 16: Resolved, That the Senate, the House concurring, take a recess until Monday next.

Mr. Stout desired it amended so that members would remain after the forty days, if necessary, to complete the legislation. The amendment was accepted by Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Llewellan objected to staying here and paying ten or twelve dollars a week to see the bulls that were on exhibition. He wanted to legislate and then return home.

Mr. Mosher said he would not ask for leave of absence, but had tried to do business this morning without a quorum. He was willing to adjourn and make up the lost time.

Mr. Thompson had offered the resolution because he desired the attendance should be full and voting on the important bills on their third reading now.

Mr. Newby opposed the resolution, believing morning and evening sessions preferable to adjournment.

Mr. Strahan had not observed the great difficulty in obtaining a quorum this morning; the thin attendance was owing to the absence of the Committee on Ways and Means, with at least the tacit consent of the Senate, who could do the business. There would be no impropriety in attending the Fair in the afternoon, and it would not require so long to complete the needed legislation.

Mr. Thompson—You have not been here so long as we have.

Mr. Strahan—But I shall stay here as long as you will. There is some danger of members becoming demoralized if we adjourn until Monday next.

Mr. Mosher raised a point of order that the Senator was charging the Senate with being demoralized.

President Fay—The Senator only supposes the Senate might be demoralized by adjournment.

On motion of Mr. Holtzclaw, the resolution was indefinitely postponed.

SENATE—Morning Session.

SALEM, Tuesday, Oct. 11, 1870.

The Senate was called to order at half-past 8 A. M. by President Fay.

On motion of Mr. Cochran the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Cochran, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported favorably on S. B. 55, to pay the expenses of the Benton and Yamhill contested cases.

Mr. Hoult, from the Committee on Counties, reported back S. B. 22, regulating enclosures, without recommendation. Also, on the memorial from Tillamook, the Committee recommend that Tillamook be attached to Yamhill for judicial purposes.

On motion of Mr. Newby the memorial was referred to the Committee, with instructions to report a bill on the subject.

Mr. Crawford, from the Committee on Education, reported S. B. 11, to provide for a uniform course of instruction, with amendments as yesterday instructed, and providing for electing as other State officers are elected.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Cochran from a select committee, reported H. B. 9, relating to the survey of roads, with an amendment punishing the defacing of bearing trees.

On motion of Mr. Strahan the report was adopted.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

S. B. 56, relating to private corporations, was read.

Mr. Thompson offered an amendment concerning the election of directors.

On motion of Mr. Brown of Baker, the bill was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with instructions to amend as suggested by Mr. Thompson.

The President called attention to the mistakes of the State Printer in numbering bills and requested the Committee on Printing to correct in the future.

On motion of Mr. Hendershott a call of the Senate was ordered.

Mr. Stout protested against leave of absence being allowed to members. They should remain and attend to business.

The President had understood that Mr. Powell had a bull or ass on exhibition at the Fair grounds.

Mr. Stout—A horse.

The President ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms to go to the Fair grounds after Mr. Powell.

Mr. Stout—Horse and all.

Mr. Cochran moved to suspend the further call of the Senate, which motion was lost.

Mr. Hendershott hoped no bill would be passed upon without a full House. Let the members be compelled to attend under the rules.

Mr. Thompson had yesterday moved an adjournment until Monday next. The Senate then decided not to adjourn, and he was opposed to giving leave of absence merely to attend the Fair.

Mr. Holtzclaw moved to reconsider the vote to suspend further call.

Mr. Mosher objected; that there was a special order and he was for compelling a full attendance.

The President remarked that there were nineteen members present.

Mr. Cochran—The Sergeant-at-Arms has gone after Mr. Powell. We should not be too tenacious, but as we have a quorum, proceed with business.

The motion to reconsider prevailed, and the further call was dispensed with.

S. B. 11 and 41 passed.

S. B. 11—An Act to provide a uniform course of instruction was read a third time and passed—ayes, 14; nays, 2.

Mr. Holtzclaw reported S. B. 41—a bill to permanently locate the Agricultural College at Corvallis, as correctly engrossed. It was read the third time and passed—ayes, 16, nays, 4.

BILL TO EQUALIZE TAXATION.

S. B. 22—to regulate enclosures was, on motion of Mr. Brown of Baker, taken from the table, and on motion of Mr. Strahan, ordered engrossed and read the third time to-morrow.

S. B. 52—to equalize taxation. On motion of Mr. Stout, it was taken from the table.

Mr. Hendershott moved to engross and read the third time to-morrow.

Mr. Moores principally objected to the bill because it was not adapted to our State Constitution, but was modeled after the California law. It would require more amendments than the Committee thought proper to make. Mr. Stout had introduced the bill without reading it over, but he knew he approved of the general object. The committee had reported against the bill because it required work to amend it. He believed the bill to be of the utmost importance. Marion county, for the purposes of State taxation, is assessed this year $3,000 less than last. Multnomah was assessed higher, and this injustice will continue until some bill is passed to remedy the existing law. He had no particular pride in this bill and was willing to make any necessary amendment. There was, perhaps, too much machinery in the bill.

Mr. Cochran could not see the necessity of committees if the reports were not acted upon. He did not want any further patching up of that bill. Perhaps some legislation was necessary. There was a House bill preferable to this, and he did not want to spend any more time killing ducks.

Mr. Stout thought the Committee on Ways and Means might be better adapted to killing dead ducks than any thing else. He had not complained of the bill requiring amendments where they had been referred to committees of which he was a member. If he had drawn the bill he might have used more artistic language for the accommodation of the Ways and Means committee.

Mr. Burch approved the bill and desired it perfected. On his motion it was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill 55, to pay expenses of contests from Benton and Yamhill, on motion of Mr. Cochran, was taken from the table, and on motion of Mr. Strahan, ordered engrossed and read a third time to-morrow.

H. J. R. 17, confirming the grant of 500,000 acres of land to the State for school purposes, was read.

WAGON ROAD IN COOS COUNTY.

H. B. 2, donating the land given by Congress to the State for the construction of a wagon road to Coos county to the Coos County Wagon Road Company, was read.

On motion of Mr. Strahan the rules were suspended and the bill read a second time by title.

On motion of Mr. Thompson a call of the Senate was ordered.

Members were brought in, and the further call was dispensed with.

Mr. Trevitt moved to further suspend the rules and read H. B. 2 the third time.

The President called Mr. Hendershott to the chair, and then proceeded to state his objections to the bill. It went further than the Act of Congress giving the land to the State. That Act providing for a certificate of the construction of ten miles of road before the company would be entitled to any grant; yet this bill gave the company the land prior to the construction of the road. He said there was nothing in this bill or before the Senate to show that one mile was ever yet constructed or would be.

Mr. Trevitt inquired if it was not similar to other bills on similar grants.

Mr. Fay—It cannot go farther than the act of Congress. He urged that the law would be vetoed by the Governor on the ground of illegality and asked who is this Coos Bay Wagon Road Company.

Mr. Mosher replied to Mr. Fay that the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company not only had their articles on file as incorporated, but had constructed twenty miles of good road, depending on getting this grant if there was no competition, no other company proposing to work better or cheaper. This is one of the three great measures to develop Southern Oregon. The railroads, the opening of the Umpqua river to navigation and this wagon road. As to legal objections, he was willing to take chances on the bill or any technical objection thereto.

Mr. Fay referred to the opposition made by Mr. Lockhart in the House, and that he was interested in the construction of the road, and stated that the passage of this bill would delay the construction of the road. He—Mr. Fay—was anxious for the road to be completed.

Mr. Trevitt asked if the land was surveyed.

Mr. Mosher—No, sir.

Mr. Fay said it would not be until the completion of the road.

Mr. Mosher said it was the bounden duty of the surveyors.

Mr. Fay had observed that the surveyor had spent his time last summer surveying the Pengra route, which commences at Eugene City and ends nowhere.

Mr. Trevitt—The road company's right has been preferred to squatters.

Mr. Fay objected to rushing this bill through in one half hour.

Mr. Baldwin did not rise to urge immediate action. He did not think there was any conflict in the bill and Act of Congress. As to the Legislature, it could not give a title to what did not exist, and the bill provided for the limitations and restrictions made in the Act of Congress.

Mr. Fay inquired if the law of Congress was sufficient, what need have we for further legislation, and what provisions in the bill would delay the sale.

Mr. Baldwin replied that it was necessary for the Legislature to designate the company to carry out the provisions of the act, and that the restrictions in the bill confirmed it to the act.

On motion of Mr. Mosher, the bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The time having arrived, the Senate considered S. B. No. 52, to provide for holding two terms of the Supreme Court, and to increase the Judges' salary to $3,500 per annum.

On motion of Mr. Mosher the vote on the amendment allowing the Judges to fix the time of holding court was reconsidered.

Mr. Stout doubted whether, under the Constitution, the court could fix the time, it providing for one term annually and at times provided by law. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Cochran would like a test vote on the engrossment of this bill.

Mr. Trevitt, to have a test vote, moved to lay on the table; which motion was lost.

Mr. Burch desired to amend and reduce the proposed salary from $3 500 to $3,000. He thought that amount just to the tax payers.

S. B. 29—to appropriate money to complete the drainage of lands of Union county, passed.

Ayes—Baldwin, Brown, of Baker, Burch, Hendershott, Holtzclaw, Llewellan, Mosher, Newby, Stout, Strahan, Trevitt, and Mr. President—12.

Nays—Brown of Marion, Cochran, Crawford, Hoult, Moores, Patterson, Powell and Thompson.

WHISKY.

H. B. 32—for the relief of Jonathan Super and John Needham. During the reading of the bill, a call of the Senate was ordered, and after the absentees were brought in, further call was dispensed with.

Mr. Cochran requested that the Secretary commence anew and read the bill so that the delinquents could be informed. He remarked that drinking whiskey caused great trouble, and consumed the time of the Senate.

Mr. Hendershott—Drinking whiskey by the members does not cost the State as much as the buncombe speeches of members.

The bill was read the first time, and, on motion of Mr. Fay, the rules were suspended and the bill read a second time by title.

Mr. Mosher moved to refer to the delegation from Linn county.

Mr. Strahan moved to amend by referring to the Judiciary committee, with instruction to examine the present laws, and see if not sufficient without special enactments. He read the law providing for a report to the Legislature of land purchased by mistake.

Mr. Stout—Under the law they will have to wait two years.

Mr. Cochran thought the Judiciary Committee had enough to do, and said the Committee on Education was the proper committee. One of the Senators from Linn belonged to that committee, and was conversant with the subject matter.

Mr. Mosher hoped this bill would not be referred to Judiciary Committee, as they had more than they can well attend to.

Mr. Strahan did not desire to be pertinacious, and withdrew his motion. The bill was referred to the Senators from Linn county.

H. B. No. 20, for the relief of Artemas Ward, was on motion. Mr. Trevitt read it the first time by title.

H. B. 33, to amend the Dalles City charter was read the first time.

EXEMPTION OF FIREMEN.

H. B. No. 27, amending the act relative to time, exempting Portland Fire Department members from jury and militia duty, was read the first time.

Mr. Stout stated that the law now is that firemen may serve four years and yet after that they were required to serve some seven years more before receiving any benefit. This Act provided for seven years service. On the motion of Mr. Stout the rules were suspended and the bill was read a second time by title, and, on the motion of Mr. Strahan, the rules were further suspended and the bill read a third time by title. It passed; ayes 19, noes 1.

H. B. 24 and 21 were read the first time.

H. B. 26, to authorize the Tualatin Company to take water out of the Tualatin river for canal purposes, was read.

Mr. Thompson moved to suspend the rules and read the bill a second time by title.

The motion was lost.

House Bills 40, 23, 27 and 42 were each read the first time.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

H. J. R. 20, providing for the distribution of the Code and Laws to Justices and other precinct and county officers, was read.

Mr. Baldwin moved to concur.

MR. STRAHAN IN THE CHAIR.

The President opposed the resolution. It would greatly increase expense, and there was a law already in force, although an act was needed to compel justices to turn over their documents to successors, was foolishness, so far as Justices of the Peace were concerned, to create a new outlay they were a law to themselves. If the Senate could furnish brains to the Justices of the Peace, then it might be well to create statutes, but at the present, the biggest fool is elected to that office and the next sent to the Legislature.

Mr. Stout gave the number of statutes now on hand at two thousand and as changes were constantly being made in the laws, he thought, without aiming any disrespect towards the compiler, who in some respects deserved credit, a new compilation would have to be made, and it would be better to distribute the present copies now on hand, and a large number in Jackson county.

Considering the ignorance of Justices of the Peace, as depicted by the Senator, President Fay had visited Portland and observed no difference in that class of officers in Portland and Jackson county. He observed that members from Portland assumed all the moral attributes for that place, all the mentality, all the talent. The distribution of statutes without a donation of brains is like throwing pearls before swine.

Mr. Stout suggested that the Legislature had more statutes than brains to spare.

Mr. Trevitt moved to sell the statutes at public auction, and turn the proceeds over to the Common School Fund. The motion was lost—ayes, the President and Trevitt, 2; noes, 16.

A motion of the President to indefinitely postpone was lost; also a motion to lie on the table.

Mr. Stout moved to adjourn until 8½ A. M. to-morrow.

The President moved to amend by regular order to 2 P. M. The amendment was lost, and the Senate adjourned until 8.30 A. M., to-morrow.

HOUSE—Morning Session.

SALEM, Tuesday, Oct. 11.

The House was called to order at 8 o'clock A. M., by the Speaker.

The following members were reported absent:

Messrs. Clarke, Carson, Comegys, Callaway, Carlisle, Elkins, Earhart, Fulton, Hutchinson, Harrison, Holman, Hare, Lockhart, Munkers, Mills, Olney, Ostrander, O'Regan, Savage and Whalley.

There being no quorum, the Sergeant-at-Arms was directed to bring in the absentees.

The morning prayer was omitted.

Journal of yesterday read and approved.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

H. B. 25—an act for the relief of Artemas Dodge was read and passed—yeas, 48; nays, 1.

H. B. 32—an act for the relief of John Super and John Needham, was passed—yeas, 37; nays, [illegible]

H. B. 43—an act to amend an act to amend the charter of Dalles City was passed unanimously.

H. B. 37—an act to amend the act to regulate the Fire Department of Portland was passed without opposition.

H. B. 2—an act donating certain lands to the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company was read the third time.

Mr. Lockhart said the bill had been amended and then re-amended so as to leave it in exactly the same condition that it was in when it came from the hands of the Wagon Road Committee. He was anxious that the road should be built, but could not support the bill because it is not so guarded as to insure the completion of the road. He believed that if the bill passed as it appeared on its third reading the road would probably never be built.

Mr. Drain said the company had spent $10,000 upon the road, and he argued that it was unreasonable to suppose that they would throw away so much money without attempting to complete the road so as to reap the profits of their expenditures. He referred to the statement that somebody had said that Mr. Guerney had said that Aaron Rose had told him that if the lands asked for by the bill for the first twenty miles of road could be obtained no more of the road would be built, and explained that Mr. Guerney had opposed the road because the company had declined to locate a route which runs by his ranche.

Mr. Whalley opposed the bill on legal grounds.

The bill was passed, ayes 42, noes [illegible]

TAXING DRUMMERS.

H. B. 9—An Act to license and tax drummers, was read the third time.

Mr. Dorris opposed the bill. He thought manufacturers of wares in the State ought to be allowed to sell them without paying the $100 license imposed by the bill, and also that merchants throughout the State should be allowed to make orders on San Francisco for goods upon samples exhibited by agents of mercantile houses.

Mr. Olney regarded the bill as a restriction upon competition in business, and was therefore opposed to it.

Mr. Whalley favored the bill. He thought it unjust to tax the merchants of Portland and other cities on their trade, while other parties who do not reside in the State are allowed to peddle their goods or make sales through their agents to citizens of this State. He said the bill did not affect home manufactures.

Messrs. Hare and Amis opposed the bill.

Mr. Porter was in favor of passing the bill. He said merchants outside the State are now able to sell hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of goods and take the money out of the State without contributing anything to the support of the State Government.

Mr. Elkins had dealt with merchants through their drummers, and had found that the goods negotiated for were seldom of as good character as the samples. He was required to pay a license for selling goods, and believed it due to the resident business men of Oregon that merchants from other States trading in our State should be required to bear a portion of the burden of taxation. He understood the bill to have no relation to home manufactures.

Mr. Dorris argued that, if drummers should be required to pay $100 license to sell goods here, he would simply add the tax to the price of his goods so that purchasers who were citizens of the State would have to pay the license after all.

Mr. Paquet thought the bill unobjectionable.

Mr. Porter explained his remarks to mean that the bill should be passed not for the purpose of raising revenue, but to place our own merchants upon the same footing as merchants of other States trading here, by ruling the latter to procure licenses.

Mr. Whiteaker said he had introduced the bill at the request of business men. He had not drawn up the bill himself, but he believed it well prepared and meritorious. It had been submitted to the Committee on Commerce and had received the approval of that Committee. He could see no provision in the bill to injure our own manufacturers.

Mr. Grant regarded the bill in the nature of a high protection tariff. He thought that as the money for goods imported has to go out of the State anyhow, it would make no difference whether the money should be sent out by our merchants or carried away by drummers. The very instinct of Democracy led him to oppose anything in the nature of a high protective tariff, and he should therefore oppose the bill on account of principle.

Mr. Fulton desired to err, if he should err at all, on the side of mercy. He should, therefore, vote against taxing peddlers and runners, as the tax would not help much anyhow. Messrs. Dunbar and Olney opposed the bill. It was rejected—10 ayes, and 33 noes—Messrs. Drain, Elkins, Hunter, Ostrander, Porter, Paquet, Savage, Whalley and McCoy voting no.

GENERAL FILE CONTINUED.

H. B. —, an Act to amend the General Laws relative to liens of mechanics and other laborers, was passed—ayes 36; nays 1.

House Bill No. 55—An Act to amend the General Laws relative to poll tax. [Taxes all male inhabitants in the State between the ages of 18 and 50, except active firemen.] The bill passed—ayes 39, nays 1.

House Bill No. 23—An Act to amend the General Laws relative to ferry licenses. Passed.

House Bill No. 27—An Act to redefine the boundaries of Clatsop county. Passed—ayes 40, nays 11.

EXEMPTING PROPERTY FROM TAXATION.

Senate Bill No. 15—An Act to amend the General Laws in relation to [illegible], was read.

Mr. Helm called for the reading of the section which exempts from taxation all property of the United States and of the State of Oregon, and said he was in favor of taxing all the property within the State, whether public or private, educational, religious or other kind.

Mr. Hare said the bill proposes no change in the old statute, except that it inserts the word "public" so as to exempt from taxation public libraries, etc.

Mr. Dorris read from the law of Congress admitting the State into the Union, which prohibits the State from taxing United States property, and said it was binding upon the State.

Mr. Hayden objected to the bill because he thought too much already was exempted, and because the word "public" was too indefinite in its meaning. If the question were now a new one, he would oppose exempting any property whatever.

Mr. Davenport understood the word "public" to apply to such property of institutions as is intended for the public good and not for profit. He could not see how it could refer to profitable enterprises.

Mr. Whiteaker in the chair.

Mr. Hare advocated the bill, and in reply to a question asked by Mr. Alexander, if the bill would include railroads, replied that it would not do so.

Mr. Olney—A railroad is not a public institution. By what rule of right can you take private property for its benefit?

Mr. Hare—If I thought the bill included railroads I should certainly vote against it. The bill, I think, simply means to exempt institutions of a charitable or benevolent nature, such as public libraries.

Mr. Olney—Why not say public libraries, if such are meant?

Mr. Whalley supposed the bill related more particularly to the school of Bishop Morris, at Portland; he was of the opinion that it would not exempt railroads.

Mr. Helm believed the bill would exempt such institutions as the Willamette University, railroads, ferries, toll-roads, steamboats, etc. He repeated his opposition to such exemptions.

Mr. Davenport noticed that the printer had inserted a comma after the word "public," so as to read "public, literary institutions" instead of "public literary institutions." This, he thought, was incorrect, and would explain the misunderstanding of the bill.

Mr. Hayden was not willing to take anybody's interpretation of the bill. He thought the existing law liberal enough.

The Clerk was called upon to read the original bill, and stated that no comma is placed between the words "public" and "literary."

The bill was lost—ayes, 4; nays, 37.

Mr. Hare—I wish to change my vote from "aye" to "no," so that I can move a reconsideration of the vote when the House gets to understand the bill.

Mr. Olney—I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill was rejected, and then I move to lay that motion upon the table.

Mr. Grant—I move to indefinitely postpone that motion.

The Speaker—That is piling it up a most too much.

Mr. Grant—I withdraw it.

Mr. Davenport—I wish the gentleman would change his motion to an indefinite postponement.

Mr. Olney—No, that will admit of debate, and that is just what I want to prevent. The motion prevailed.

S. B. 15—An act to repeal the militia law and to abolish the office of Adjutant General, was passed—ayes 35, noes, 1.

S. B. 6—An act to define the boundaries of Grant county, was passed—ayes, 40; noes, none.

On motion of Mr. Alexander, the House adjourned until 7 o'clock P. M.

HOUSE—Evening Session.

SALEM, Tuesday, Oct. 11th.

The House was called to order at 7 o'clock, P. M., the Speaker in the Chair and a quorum being present.

BILLS READ THIRD TIME.

H. B. 17—An Act to amend An Act relative to private corporations was passed—ayes, 25; nays, 10.

Mr. Amis gave notice of his intention to reconsider the vote.

S. B. 28—An Act to prevent and punish vagrancy was read the third time.

Messrs. Hare, Whalley, Whiteaker and Olney opposed the bill and Mr. Dorris favored it. It was rejected—ayes, 19; nays, 21.

S. B. 46, an Act to amend the bill to enlarge the limits of Corvallis, was passed.

S. B. 35, an Act to amend an Act to provide for the incorporation of religious and educational institutions, was read and ordered read the second time.

S. B. —, an Act to provide for the construction of a wagon road through Jackson, Baker and Grant counties, was read the first time.

Mr. Dorris moved to reject the bill.

Mr. Amis moved to lay the motion on the table. The motion failed.

Mr. Dorris' motion failed; ayes 9, nays 30.

APPORTIONMENT.

Mr. Hare moved to take up the joint resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to make a new apportionment of Senators and Representatives.

The Speaker ruled all debate on the motion out of order. The motion failed—ayes, 9; nays, 31.

SENATE MESSAGES.

The House proceeded to consider Senate messages.

S. B. 48—An Act to amend the charter of Oregon City, was read the first, second and third time and passed.

A message announced the concurrence of the Senate in the House Joint Resolution to raise a committee to examine the books and accounts of the State Treasurer and Secretary of State.

The Senate adopted an amendment to have the evidence reduced to writing, in which the House concurred.

S. B. —, an act to permanently locate the Agricultural College. It designates Corvallis College.

Mr. Amis moved to suspend the rules and read the bill the second time by title.

The motion failed, and on motion the House adjourned.

The World Grows Wiser.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and (literally) returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemas Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered at last that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorous as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the race in a morbid condition.

The Bombardment of Strasburg

I have [illegible] from the scene of the bombardment of Strasburg. The railway from Appenweier to Kehl is still open as far as the station of Kork, a village about four miles from Kehl. The commanding position for observation afforded by the church tower and some other elevated buildings in this place made it such a point of attraction for sightseers that the military authorities on the day I came, summarily issued orders not to allow any strangers to visit it. The consequence was that when the train steamed into the station, disappointment general and desperate befell a whole host of tourists who found themselves confronted by inexorable sentries refusing admission even into the station house. What became of these protesting travelers I do not know. Some of them I came across later as they were gazing on the conflagration in Strasburg from a distance considerably in the rear of Kork, but the greater number, I apprehend, were driven back to a point whence all they could enjoy was the sound of the heavy guns.

Thanks to perseverance and some protection I contrived to get well forward, and though I cannot give you many details I can state generally the present condition of affairs. The city is now invested from all sides, the heaviest batteries being on the west, north and east from the town, the latter of which is on the German bank. Since the 24th the real bombardment has commenced, and it was the report of its severe effect resulting in a conflagration of terrible proportions which induced me to undertake the expedition. As evening came on the besiegers, who till this fired but occasionally, opened from all their batteries an incessant fire of shell and heavy cannon upon the defences of the city, which was answered for the first part of the night with considerable vigor, but which slackened after midnight. But what made the scene one never to pass from the memory was the terrible conflagration which burst out in Strasburg about nine o'clock and raged on throughout the night. At the commencement the fire was apparently within the citadel alone, but soon we could see that it raged on various points, and we counted distinctly from eight to ten different fires burning luridly in the black night, and Strasburg stood out before us a city of devastation and raging in misery. But even this scene of glowing destruction of a sudden became intensified. It was just close on a quarter to three as I stood watching with breathless interest the rapid succession of shells flying into the doomed city, when like the flash of a Bengal illumination in a theater there shot up a bright glowing flame, wonderfully clear and perplexingly smokeless, that shed a white light through the murky night and of a sudden lit up the minster with a vividness that instinctively brought a hushed exclamation to the group amid which I was standing: "Great God, the cathedral is on fire." But the next moment convinced us that the glorious old minster on which waves the white flag was untouched. The conflagration so startling and tremendous was elsewhere. Where it might be was indeed matter for speculation, though now we know that it was the arsenal which was destroyed. For hours and hours it burned on, the same glow of clear lambent fire shedding over minster and over the dark outlines of the city against a horizon dotted with lines of lurid fire an indescribably pallid and ghastly illumination. I left my station as the day dawned, and still the fire was raging, and as I quitted Appenweiser on my way back here there still came forth on the horizon volumes of smoke-clouds to tell the tale of continued devastation.

And now for the prospects of the siege. Strasburg is a lost city. The citadel has been seriously injured, and it was expected that an assault would have been made this night, but I have a reason to believe the Prussian General is not disposed to reduce the town in this way, partly because he knows he can bring it to terms by battery and partly because, I apprehend, he is not willing to expose it to the fate of a city taken by assault by an exasperated soldiery. The conduct of the French commandant, General Uhrich, I am sorry to say, has rendered the people about here indignant. He has wilfully directed his fire on the entirely defenceless town of Kehl and absolutely gutted it. I am not exaggerating. What I here state I could not have believed but on the authority of ocular demonstration. Kehl does not any longer exist. There is not one house in it that is not more or less battered to pieces. It is a mass of smouldering and flaming masonry. Such scenes of ruthless devastation are in the character of the proceedings of the French in the days of Melac; and the result is a furious exasperation on the part of an absolutely ruined population. It was a harrowing sight to see the poor country folk in the surrounding villages with the remnants of such movable goods as they could save.—Manheim Cor English Paper

A Night in the Forest—Desperate Fight with Wildcats

[From the Pittsburg Commercial, Sept 22.]

In the beginning of the present month Messrs J H Talbot, Horace Jones, and Alexander Smith visited Elk county, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of examining a piece of land therein situated, which had been purchased by Mr Talbot. A terrific thunderstorm came up, and they were compelled to seek shelter under the branches of a venerable hemlock, whose moss-covered and thick foliage gave evidence of great age. The storm soon burst upon them with great fury. The very air grew thick, and darkness set in. All went well till about 11 o'clock, when they heard a slight sound in the brush, and peering into the darkness they discovered two fiery eyes glaring at them. They knew that a wildcat was approaching and they grasped their [illegible] more firmly. The fierce [illegible] quietly walked round the tree three times as if meditating how to attack them, gradually drawing nearer each time. At last it stopped directly in front and [illegible] crouching as if about to spring upon them. At this critical juncture Talbot discharged his rifle directly at the [illegible]. With a fearful screech that filled them with fear, it bounded into the brush, and when the echoes of the rifle died away all was still, and a deeper gloom settled down upon them.

An hour had probably elapsed when to their horror, the fiery eyeballs of two more wild cats suddenly peered upon them out of the thick, murky darkness. They stood erect and grasped their arms in the attitude of charge bayonets. The animals slowly approached and seemed intent on mischief. As they could not see to reload their arms, and as Talbot's gun was discharged, they were compelled to exercise the greatest caution in order to make their fire effective in the event of a spring from the animals. The wildcats walked around several times, then suddenly stopped an instant, when quick as thought, one of them, giving a low growl, sprang at them.

As luck would have it Smith caught it on the end of his rifle, and pulling the trigger at that moment sent the ball through its heart. It rolled off uttering a frightful yell, and by the kicking and scratching in the bushes they knew it was wounded. At the same moment they all yelled as loud as they could, which seemed to frighten the other, and it bounded into the bushes and disappeared. They were not disturbed again during the night. In the morning they found two [illegible] lying within thirty feet of the tree under which they had taken shelter. Fortunately they took a course which brought them to a settlement, and after recuperating they returned to the city.

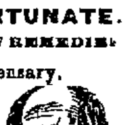
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary.



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, and see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written guarantee, [illegible] binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who will bogus sworn to certificates [illegible] the unwary. Some of these fellows [illegible] whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and [illegible] radesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper writers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will [illegible] the Medical Institutes [illegible] but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1866 and 1868. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr [illegible] does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy you, or any one who may call at his office, of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial. Private Entrance on Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

THE RIVERSIDE
HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!
OF
EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock.
Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened and a large [illegible] shares have been taken.
The following extracts from the Oregonian [illegible] will convey a good idea of the plan and working of the Association, the location of the land, etc., etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association, of whose organization [illegible] an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one or two [illegible] the Portland Homestead Association, the first organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to [illegible] its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are [illegible] for the profits of their investment upon [illegible] natural advance in the value of their [illegible] consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance in value of the surrounding lands by reason of the [illegible] population and demand for room [illegible] still near, the city. The Riverside [illegible] Association has a fraction over [illegible] twenty acres of land situated [illegible] Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the [illegible] east boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The [illegible] in one strip along the Willamette river, [illegible] in length, and another strip along the [illegible] California railroad, half a mile in length, the [illegible] strips being connected near the [illegible] rows of blocks (with a street [illegible]) the whole forming a figure not unlike [illegible]. It is divided into 74 blocks, [illegible] streets running at right angles, and [illegible] al lots along the river [illegible] number 600, worth $60 per share. [illegible] a share thus represents nearly a lot [illegible] vided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The [illegible] tional shares are to be sold off at [illegible] for the benefit of the Association, [illegible] coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] mine to do it, the choice of [illegible] will be put up at auction [illegible] bidder, the proceeds of such sales, after [illegible] the original price of shares or lots, [illegible] equally among the whole number [illegible]. Thus, if a person wants a [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 or $200 [illegible] or less as the case may be, [illegible] the lot or block as his [illegible] premium being divided among the whole [illegible] of shareholders. It will be seen [illegible] everything is co-operative, and all [illegible] [illegible]. No man can make a dollar out of [illegible] out also making a dollar for all [illegible] shareholder. There is no chance [illegible] the property, by some [illegible] far below the first actual [illegible] liable to happen in the case of [illegible] tract of land must be judged by [illegible] but considering the steady and [illegible] vance on real estate in this city [illegible] hood, and at East Portland [illegible] last year or two, it seems [illegible] values to go back.

In the Riverside Association [illegible] tions seem to have been taken [illegible] monopolies of shares. No [illegible] buy more than the number of [illegible] three blocks, or twenty four lots, [illegible] termining the operations of the [illegible] restricted in the cases [illegible] shares may pay down $60 per share [illegible] exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an [illegible] share payable with the first [illegible] liable in this latter case to [illegible] other) assessment of $3 per share [illegible] payment of the shares in full, with the [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to his [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits [illegible] all sources. No officer of the [illegible] any pay for services except the [illegible] gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river [illegible] a high plateau, nearly level, about [illegible] above the water. There is no part of the [illegible] row of blocks but commands [illegible] Portland and the river for miles up and down the stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it [illegible] soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and [illegible] ficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste [illegible] lot in the entire tract. [illegible] advantages, it would seem impossible that there can be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he chooses, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest [illegible] vided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these [illegible] by the fact that the subject of making [illegible] on the outskirts of this city and East Portland, is [illegible] discussed here among all classes [illegible] already [illegible] Riverside, just south of East Portland, has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry [illegible] It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other parts of the H, but is still forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the [illegible] and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile, and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H with the one already described with the east. The last tract of land is in a little valley, which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a trout brook, the water of which is as clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
